The EPA is establishing a new national system for tracking hazardous waste in accordance with the Hazardous Waste Electronic Manifest Establishment Act. The benefits of the new e-Manifest system include:

- Cost savings
- More accurate and timely information on waste shipments
- Rapid notifications of discrepancies or other problems with shipments
- The creation of a one stop reporting hub for use by the EPA and states

Phase One

Veolia is working hard to ensure a minimal impact on our customers as a result of these changes. Beginning in June 2018, Veolia will begin Phase One of our compliance procedures and start scanning written documentation to provide them, along with any required data, to the EPA through electronic means.

EPA Releases Proposed 2019 Budget

Outlining planned program activities and resource requirements

The proposed 2019 budget for the EPA provides $6.146 billion to support the Agency's new strategic plan and mission of protecting human health and the environment.

Women in STEM

Veolia Port Arthur Raises Awareness

Did you know that, while women make up almost half of the U.S. population, they only account for 24 percent of the science, technology, environment and mathematics (STEM) workforce? For International Women's Day, Veolia Port Arthur hosted a tour of the site for Port Arthur Independent School District students, who were provided an opportunity to speak with female employees about their careers in STEM.

Print Responsibly

Whenever possible, review documents electronically, instead of printing them. When you must print, use the "print preview" feature on your computer to check for formatting errors, print on both sides of the paper, and avoid printing in color. Remember, too, that you can often recycle your printer cartridges.

Safety at Work and Home

Avoid Injuries with Proper Lifting Techniques

Get a firm footing before picking up a heavy object. Be sure your shoes have good traction. Then, part your feet and put one foot slightly in front of the other. This position will help you maintain good balance.
